Peter G. Speltz was born in Winona, Minnesota, March 10, 1941. He spent his boyhood and youth in Minnesota and California. He was an outstanding student at the University of Chicago, receiving a M.S. in Physics in 1963. He became an instructor at NORTHEASTERN ILLINOIS STATE COLLEGE in 1963 and at the same time commenced work on a doctorate in physics at Illinois Institute of Technology. He was an outstanding student and teacher, receiving a NSF fellowship at I. I. T. commencing September 1967. Because of the terminal nature of his illness he refused this honor and elected to spend the remaining months of his life at NISC. He died January 12, 1968. Colleagues and students at NISC have contributed sufficient funds to endow a Peter G. Speltz Memorial Prize in Physics to be presented each year to an outstanding physics student.
